

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The most significant development of the New Deal is the increased concentration of government functions in the hands of the president.

Franklin Roosevelt is rapidly supplanting his own cabinet. He has always been his own secretary of state, and because he has a weak spot for the department of his youth—also, his own secretary of the navy. Now he has added the treasury department. In addition to this he studies and signs every NRA code—and some of them are extremely technical—does the same thing for the AAA, and keeps his finger on public works.

No president in years has taken over so much detailed work usually relegated to cabinet members. Roosevelt even goes over the White House budget personally, a thing which in the past has been left to the director of the budget and White House secretaries.

The result has been a centralization of administration which works beautifully up to a point, but bogs down badly when the pivot man is overloaded.

This latter is happening now. Cabinet members literally have to fight to get 15 minutes alone with the president. Even Little Jimmy Howe, his life-long confidant, spends days without seeing him. Professor Sprague had not been able to see Roosevelt from the closing of the London conference in July to the day he resigned in November. Secretary Ickes called up just before Roosevelt left for Warm Springs and asked for five minutes in order to get some important papers signed. Marvin McIntyre, Roosevelt's appointment secretary, threw up his hands.

"Absolutely impossible," he said. "Every minute is taken for the entire day."

The result also is that when the president leaves town, important government accomplishment slows down almost to the stopping point. Disorganized.

There have been times when Prof. O. M. W. Sprague, himself a former student of Roosevelt, would wonder when he would see him again. But just after his resignation, Sprague was asked:

"Wasn't President Roosevelt a student in one of your classes at Harvard?"

"I am told the records show he was," was the laconic reply.

Former Cuban Officers Are Shot to Death

MATANZAS, Cuba, Nov. 25.—UP—Five former Cuban army officers, accused of brutality under the administration of Gerardo Machado, were seized by a mob today near Colon and shot to death.

The officers, who had been imprisoned at Cabanas, were being taken to Santa Clara in automobiles under a military escort commanded by Lieut. Rodolfo Sanchez. Authorities intended to submit them to legal examinations, preparatory to trial for their alleged crimes.

As the motorcade reached a point early today on the Central highway outside of Colon, a mob of armed white men blocked further progress.

The officers were taken away from the escort and led a few rods down the road, where the mob killed them with pistols and rifles.

Whether there was any resistance by the guards was not reported. Army headquarters refused to divulge any further information about the fate of the prisoners.

Referring to the statement of Alfred Smith attacking Roosevelt's policy, Moley said, "Smith is a man to be respected, but the best plan lies between those of the firm gold standard advocates and the extreme inflationists."

Police were posted as a guard and when Yue appeared, he was arrested by Patrolman E. M. Logan. The man was searched and found to be unarmed.

HIDEOUTS OF DESPERADOES ARE WATCHED

MCKULGEE, Okla., Nov. 25.—UP—Hideouts of five desperadoes who broke jail here late last night were being watched closely by posses of officers today, in an attempt to trap the fugitives.

State crime bureau operatives, augmented by sheriff's deputies, watched at Bristow, where Clarence Eno, one of the fugitives, was captured recently, and roads leading to the Sookson Hills, notorious hangout, were guarded.

Paul Williams, Orla Schuler, Lawrence Welser and Pascal Quinn escaped with Eno. All had records in the state crime bureau.

Eno served a term of two years for assault with intent to kill, was paroled from second sentence of 10 years and served a term in the Kansas reformatory. He was wanted at Baxter Springs, Kansas where he had been identified in a bank robbery, and at Nebraska City, Neb. on a similar charge. He was also suspected in the recent $15,000 bank robbery here.

He was believed to be a member of the notorious Wilbur Underhill gang of hoodlums which recently terrorized Vian, Oklahoma, holding officers besieged in a store for several hours.

No definite trace of the fugitives had been found later today. They commandeered a car from a group of young people near the city and abandoned it three miles farther on. It was not known whether they were picked up by an accomplice, or fled afoot.

Long Forward Pass In Closing Quarter Gives Stanford Win

STANFORD, Nov. 25.—Stanford has been invited and has accepted an invitation from the Tournament of Roses to represent the west in the annual New Year's game at Pasadena, it was announced tonight.

The announcement was made by Al Masters, Stanford general manager of athletics after the Indians' victory today over University of California.

Election of the team to represent the east in the annual east-west football classic will be made by Stanford. The selection is expected to be announced within a few days, Masters told the United Press tonight.

PALO ALTO, Nov. 25.—UP—Stanford University's brilliant sophomores passed to a fourth-quarter 7 to 3 victory over University of California before 85,000 rabidly partisan spectators here today.

By its impressive victory, Stanford became the logical team to represent the west in the Pasadena Rose Bowl classic, New Year's day.

ENTER IN TIE

Stanford also earned a tie with University of Oregon for first place in the 1933 Pacific Coast conference standing. Each team won four games and lost one, but Stanford's victory over University of Southern California made the Palo Alto team the favorite over Oregon for the Rose Bowl game.

After scoring its touchdown, Stanford stayed off a tremendous California drive that started on the California 20 and ended only on the Stanford goal line where Bob Hamilton, Stanford back, intercepted Blower's pass and returned it 60 yards.

California had scored in the second quarter when Arleigh Williams veteran left halfback, dropped back from the Stanford 17 and kicked a field goal.

Stanford drove to the California 21-yard line in the first quarter but was unable to penetrate the hard charging California line. Bill Corbush, who captained Stanford today, tried a field goal but his effort was short.

Stanford got the ball on the California 44 when the Golden Bears punted. Frank Alustiza, Stanford quarterback, faded backwards and passed 30 yards to Al Norgard, Stanford end, who crossed the goal line standing up. Corbush kicked the extra point from placement.

Start Drive

The maddened California team, seeing its slim lead slip away, started a vicious drive immediately after the kickoff. Charles Stewart, quarterback, led the attack from his own 29-yard line by charging through the tiring Stanford line for long gains. He ripped off 15 yards to the Stanford 44-yard line.

Pass Fails

Grayson started for what looked like a Stanford touchdown march by a 25-yard dash through the California eleven in the fourth quarter. A pass, over the goal line failed and California took the ball. But Stanford was not through.

HART CASE EVIDENCE REPORTED

SAN JOSE, Nov. 25.—"Secret evidence" in the hands of Sheriff William Emig will clinch the case against Thomas Thurmmond and Jack Holmes, alleged kidnapers and slayers of Brooke Hart. 22, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Sheriff Emig refused to reveal the nature of the evidence but it is understood that evidence in his possession will establish beyond doubt that Thurmmond and Holmes executed the kidnapping of the youth and his murder and then sought to collect $40,000 ransom.

Mystery Map

Today a mysterious map, which may form an important link in the prosecution of the pair, was being studied by Emig.

The map traces roads from San Jose, where the wealthy youth was kidnapped November 9, to Oakland and Berkeley and unidentified hills. It was found beside an isolated road near Campbell, where the kidnaper, admit having been shortly after the kidnapping.

Key To Notes

Investigators expressed the belief that the map may furnish the key to the mystery presented when ransom notes, claiming Hart is still alive, were received at the Hart home. The notes indicated that Hart was being kept in a hide-out, and had not been killed as Thurmmond and Holmes have confessed.

Though seen as a possible aid in the solution of this mystery, the map injected another unexplained (Continued on Page Eight)

Will Establish New Records at Dog Races Today

Normal Allen's kennel, one of the big winners at Vancouver not so many weeks ago, promises to establish some lousy mark at El Cerrito Kennel club today, now that the greyhounds are acclimated and running in best fashion.

Suspicious Alice in No. 1 hole broke best, and held on to the first turn where Jimmie Hawk of the Allen manage romped into contention. As they hit the straightaway in front of the grandstand on the first lap around the track, Jimmie Hawk was two lengths in front and going away. From there on to the wire, Jimmie Hawk made a holy show of the field, scoring at will and equalling the track record of 46 4-5 seconds. This is remarkably fast time for the marathon distance and leads many to believe that with luck Jimmie Hawk would be capable of beating this mark.

Speaking Of Sports

LONDON.—UP—Australia is already preparing for the 1934 cricket season, when a touring team will attempt to win back the mythical "Ashes" from Britain in a series of five test matches.

The series, to be played in Britain next summer, should be one of the keenest fought on record. It follows the "resumption" of amicable relations between Britain and Australia. These relations were strained last season when, largely due to the body-line bowling of Harold Larwood, Britain won. The Australians claimed that he bowled at the batsman instead of the wicket, and so virulent were the attacks that there was serious danger of a complete rupture.

Now, however, after an exchange of explanatory cables, the problem has been settled. Britain not to use fast body-line bowling, while Australia is to do everything to stop "barracking." "Barracking" is the Australian word for crowd criticism.

The British team for the series will not be chosen until just before each test match. Observers expect that the Australian team will contain few alterations from the team that unsuccessfully defended the "Ashes" last summer.

The fixture list of the Australian tour, already announced, is as follows:

May 2—Worcestershire. May 5—Leicestershire. May 9—Cambridge University. May 12—M. C. C. at Lords. May 16—Essex. May 19—Oxford University. May 23—Hampshire. May 26—Middlesex. May 30—Surrey. June 2—Leicestershire. June 4—First test match, at Nottingham.

Now, however, after an exchange of explanatory cables, the problem has been settled. Britain not to use fast body-line bowling, while Australia is to do everything to stop "barracking." "Barracking" is the Australian word for crowd criticism.

The British team for the series will not be chosen until just before each test match. Observers expect that the Australian team will contain few alterations from the team that unsuccessfully defended the "Ashes" last summer.

Trojans Down Notre Dame By 19 To 0 Score

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 25.—UP—Led by Irvine (Cotton) Warburton, smallest player on the field, Southern California conquered Notre Dame for the third straight year, 19 to 0, and evened the international rivalry between the Trojans and Irish.

A crowd of 10,000 attended. Warburton, a cotton-haired mid-set from San Diego, Calif., weighing only 147 pounds, scored two of the touchdowns which enabled the Trojans to become the first team in the 47 years of Notre Dame football history to whip the Irish three years running.

It was Notre Dame's fifth defeat of the season, plunging the Irish to the lowest football depths of all time. Until today the most games Notre Dame had lost in one season was four.

The shifty side step and prancing feet of Warburton started Notre Dame's downfall after a scoreless first period, in which the Irish once halted the Trojans on the 18-yard line.

Warburton came into the game for Homer Griffith at the start of the second period. After two minutes of this period, Southern California obtained the ball on its own 35-yard line after a Notre Dame punt. It took just nine plays, with Warburton carrying the ball on six of them, for the Trojans to advance 62 yards across the Notre Dame goal.

Stevens kicked goal, and Southern California led 7 to 0 at half time.

Later in the second period Notre Dame obtained its only scoring chance when Cal Clemens punt traveled only nine yards out of bounds in mid-field. A pass, Luckats to Devore, was ruled complete because of interference on Southern California's 34-yard line. Notre Dame attacks bogged down, and its passes were wild, and the Trojans soon had the ball again on their own 43-yard line.

Long Forward Pass In Closing Quarter Gives Stanford Win

Stewart and Blower crashed for another first down on the Stanford 1-yard stripe.

Cards Held The Stanford line, in which Reynolds, tackle, was outstanding, held the emergency and threw a formula backfield men back Norward slipped through to Blower for a 5-yard loss.

Blower then tried a pass. Bob Hamilton, Stanford back, came out and took the pass on his own goal line. He sped down the field lines 60 yards to the California 10 before his passers could hold him down.

Neither team could gain consistently in the three minutes left to play, the game ended with Blower passing to Jack Brittingham for 20 yards to the California 15.

Grayson Stars The running of Bobby Grayson, Hamilton, Alustiza and "Buck" Van Dellen, and the passing of Grayson and Alustiza, gave Stanford its edge over the desperately fighting team from Berkeley.

Stanford's "inexperienced" sophomores—six of them—started the game. They made mistakes, but their strength, speed and versatility were sufficient to counteract their errors.

Recover Fumble It was Grayson's fumble, recovered by Stewart, that gave California the ball on the Stanford 45-yard line and led to California's only score.

CHARGES OF MURDER FOR WYNEKOOP

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Charges of murder were filed late today against Earle Wynekoop in the death of his wife, Rheta, Dr. Alice L. Wynekoop, mother of Earle, already has been held on murder charges.

The report of Dr. Clarence Muehberger to the coroner today that sufficient chloroform had been administered to the 27-year-old woman to have caused death before she was shot bore out in some respect Dr. Alice's statement to the authorities. Dr. Thomas L. Dwyer, coroner's physician, on the contrary, had declared his autopsy showed that gunshot, hemorrhage and shock were the cause of death.

The woman physician said she had handed the bottle of chloroform to the patient, who helped herself, inhaling deeply and often. She had not noticed its effect until the girl failed to answer whether she felt pain. Then she found Rheta dead.

No Confession
This statement was made yesterday after Earle Wynekoop had offered to make a confession to clear his mother and she had broken down momentarily over his proffered sacrifice.

The police pointed out today that Dr. Wynekoop did not at any time confess killing the young woman, but merely that the patient had died accidentally and she had tried to avoid embarrassment by shooting the already dead woman.

Not Satisfied
The officers were not at all satisfied with the statement, however, saying it was more of a defense than a confession of guilt, that they believed the act was premeditated and that others might have been in the alleged plot. They sought other facts to solve the mystery.

"This won't bother me very long," were the words that slipped from her mouth as she sat in the State's Attorney's office this morning awaiting another round of questions.

Chats With Police
Her listeners looked up questioningly.

"What do you mean by that?" someone asked.

She laid her hand on her knee in a motherly fashion and said:

"Now don't ask me that."

Eight Men to Face Charges Of Two Women

WOODLAND, Nov. 25.—Three Broderick men are in the county jail charged with criminally assaulting one Sacramento woman, and warrants have been issued for the arrests of five other men on the same charge involving another woman in the same party.

Those under arrest are Frank DeGla, 22; Louis Bianchi, 21, and Mario Luigi, 19.

The trio are accused of accosting Mrs. Charlotte Comer, 23, of Sacramento, as she attempted to walk across the I street bridge, forced her into an automobile and then drove her to a spot near Westgate, where one of the men allegedly assaulted her.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

It's the Order of the Day

THIS SCENE was being enacted on hundreds of farms throughout the west today as poor old turk was being made ready for the festive board. Emery W. Deanes of McCoy, Ore., who raises the fatted birds, is telling his son, Billie, 3, just what's in store for that unsuspecting bird on the left.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—He is one of the three top-notch comedians riding the airwaves, and he will shortly come to your neighborhood theater in a motion picture. You will probably wonder at the absence of his familiar "straight man," since the combination grew famous together. Well, thereby hangs a tale a tale concerning an ugly rumor now running the column rounds, to wit: that the comedian was knocked completely berserk by his tremendous success; that he played petty politics to prevent his partner's appearance in the picture.

THE partner is now on Broadway backing up the cruel rumor, and at the same time putting himself in a position to lose his job when the comic returns to the air for the new season. Liquor makes him talk. Taking a look at him you realize in a moment that he is in no condition to appear in front of a camera, since his face is scarred from the eye to the neck a distance of forty-eight stitches. It was the old story a little bit tipsy, he had been driving his car over the California roads—a bad corner—wet pavement—the brakes would not hold the car turned over. Miraculous—

THE straight man took to the bottle for his consolation. He told a widely read Hollywood columnist that he had been double-crossed by his pal. The story was picked up in New York, and the local boys and girls were shocked. They couldn't believe it of the comedian, a man whom they had known as a regular guy.

YOU'll see the picture shortly, and if you know the characters you'll understand the story behind the story. Back in Hollywood the funny man is really suffering. It hurts him to think that his friend would go against him. Still, little by little the ugly rumor gains momentum. It will probably affect the picture's receipts and injure the comedian's popularity on the air. Bad news travels fast.

ANOTHER victim of a false rumor is a beautiful little ingenue familiar to most theatergoers. Today she can't find a job anywhere. No producer will even hire her for a small role. Her money is giving out fast. She's desperate and helpless, simply because the following false story was so widely publicized that audiences came to resent her.

SHE fell in love with a famous musician a couple of years ago. For a long time they had been very happy together. They were pointed out as the perfectly suited couple, young, handsome, ambitious. Their pictures appeared in the newspapers and their activities were reported by the Broadway scribes.

LIKE many young couples, though, they had made the familiar agreement. They promised each other that, should one or the other of them meet someone they loved a little bit more, they would be frank and open and honest about it. The break came when the romance was a few months old.

THE ingenue was the first to fall in love again... with a poor but ambitious young lawyer whom she had met at a cocktail party. Following the agreement to the letter, she told the musician all about her change of heart, but the musician wouldn't listen. He was a bad loser, and resolved that she shouldn't get away with it. He squawked like a wet hen.

THEY parted immediately, and the little ingenue married her lawyer man. The next day the columns reproached her with a 100 percent inaccurate account of the affair. The columns took their story from the musician—and what a story! He claimed that she had played with his heart,

DUFFYS' HOLD POSITIONS FOR FORTY YEARS

For the past three generations, San Quentin prison has been the home of the Duffys, who originally hailed from San Pablo.

This singular disclosure was made yesterday when archives of the institution revealed that nearly 40 years ago William J. Duffy came to San Quentin from San Pablo in search of a job and became a guard. His son, Clinton, is now secretary to the warden, a grandson, John H. student at the prison grammar school, aims to carry on with ambitions of becoming a surgeon on the prison medical staff.

When the eldest Duffy retired in 1926 after 32 years of service there was a brief lapse, although they remained residents of the prison colony. In 1929 Clinton was appointed the warden's secretary, a position he now occupies. His mother, widowed in 1931, still retains her prison residence.

John, inspired by the record of Dr. Leo L. Stanley, acting warden and chief of staff of the prison hospital, hopes to emulate Dr. Stanley's achievements, he says.

On the maternal side the heritage goes back one more generation, Lee Carpenter, grandfather of Mrs. Clinton Duffy, was associated with the institution as a guard for 20 years and he was followed by John, a son, who for nearly three decades was successively a guard and captain of the yard.

"Life on prison grounds?" Clinton Duffy repeated when asked for an opinion. "Not much different than life anywhere. After all, it's not where you live, but what you make of living. This place has been home for us a long time; to live elsewhere would seem strange."

that suddenly out of the proverbial clear blue sky she had run off with the barrister—a dirty trick, cruel and inexcusable.

TODAY the lawyer is feeling the effects of poverty. His wife is canvassing the theatrical agencies in search of a job, but it's too late. Broadway forgets quickly, indeed. Broadway forgets the story but the producers still remember it and ignore the little ingenue. She wasn't given a chance to tell her story, and she never will.

with most of the things he wanted, leaving with Roosevelt chiefly a few platitudes regarding propaganda and religious freedom.

State department officials are betting that a couple of years from now it will be just the same. Litvinov still will be promising. With no other countries have the Russians settled debts or claims—but they have always promised.

"Tomorrow, tomorrow," is still the most popular phrase in all Russia.

Tankless
Litvinov kept himself more shrouded from the public than the Living Buddha during his stay in Washington, but there was one man outside the realm of officialdom whom he took time to see.

That was cherub-faced Ross Collins, representative from Mississippi, and the man who strikes terror into the hearts of every high army officer in the war department.

Collins, in charge of army appropriations is said to know more about mechanized war weapons than any expert in the war department. And Litvinov, desiring to buy armored cars and tanks in the United States, sent for Collins.

The Mississippi congressman told Litvinov that for American tanks were worth the metal they were made of, that the war department had failed to support American tank manufacturers, that American generals would rather wear spurs and ride horses than develop mechanized weapons.

DURANTE AND JACK PEARL ON FOX BILL TODAY

The irresistible provocator of radio, Baron Munchausen, makes his feature picture debut in M-G-M's comedy with music, "Meet The Baron" which opens on a double program with "East of 5th Avenue" at the Fox theater today. "Meet The Baron" stars Wallace Ford, Dorothy Tree, Walter Connolly, Dorothy Tree, and Mary Carlisle.

"Meet The Baron"

The Baron, assisted by his ever faithful "Sharlie" becomes involved in a series of comic situations in a fashionably school for girls. Zasu Pitts of the flatteringly titled, holds forth as heart chambermaid and upon her meeting with the Baron a romance develops between them.

In addition to "Sharlie" the Baron has a second confederate in the person of Jimmy Durante, who becomes enamored of the school dean, Edna May Oliver. Ted Healy and his "stooges" also are in the cast.

During the course of the action, the Baron is given a radio audition, and to his surprise, and comes through in brilliant style. He is given a contract with one of the country's foremost organizations, so all goes well for the odd assortment of comics.

The role of Baron Munchausen is portrayed by Jack Pearl creator of the radio character.

MANY ENJOY DANCE GIVEN BY Y. P. CLUB

The Young Peoples Fellowship of the St. Edmund's church entertained last evening at their annual dinner dance held at Hotel Capulet.

The affair was attended by a large crowd and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour last evening. Favors were presented to the ladies and punch was served. Music was furnished by the Gay Vortex Red Pepper orchestra.

Stars married to non-professionals include: Joe E. Brown, Leslie Howard, Warren William, Richard Barthelmess, James Cagney, Paul Muni, Betty Davis, Mary Astor, Allyn MacMahon, Donald Woods, and Ghy Kibbee. Genevieve Tobin plans to marry a Los Angeles business man at almost any moment.

Several marriages of professionals in the movie business have gone on the rocks. Outstanding is the parting of Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Divorce also parted William Powell and Carole Lombard, Adolphe Menjou and Kathryn Carver and John Gilbert and Ina Claire.

The latest romances blossoming on the Warner lot are between members of the movie colony. There Lyle Talbot has been seen places with Judith Allen, the ex-Mrs. Gus Sonnenberg; Adolphe Menjou makes the rounds of night spots with Verree Teasdale, of the New York stage; and Dick Powell is keeping company with Mary Brian. Adrienne Ames, a newcomer to the screen, divorced her sometime club habit to wed an actor, Bruce Cabot.

Of the unmarried girls on the Warner lot, Jean Muir, Glenda Farrell and Margaret Lindsay decide to say what type of men bura Stanwyck and Frank Fay, they will marry.

Lesson Today With the Scientists

"I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible." These words from the Book of Jeremiah comprise the Golden Text to be used tomorrow in all churches of Christ, Scientist branches of The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead? To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to his word, it is because there is no light in them." (Isa. 8:19, 20).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "When sufficiently advanced in Science to be in harmony with the truth of being, men become seers and prophets murder in a taxicab today.

The woman, Mrs. Lena Archie, 30, was suffering from a bullet wound in her breast. She was given a chance to recover.

The man, Charles Lindberg, 40, a cripple, shot the woman during an argument in a cab and then turned the sun on himself with fatal results.

Anthony Reyes, cab driver and witness to the shooting drove the pair to the hospital, but Lindberg was dead when they arrived.

He said the couple had been quarreling from the time he picked them up at the night club where Mrs. Archie worked as an entertainer. She is the mother of a child, and a divorcee.

After a series of misfortunes Jim Tibbett, a genial bumbling salesman and his pretty wife Mary are on the way to fame and fortune in New York. With Mary's help Jim manages to sell enough stock to become a director in the Perfect Vacuum Company. In his new position Jim buys some Long Island property and builds a beautiful English manor house. Then he finds that the real estate people who sold him the property are a gang of racketeers. He fights them to a finish and in gratitude the Realtors' Association of New York presents the couple with a beautiful and fully furnished colonial home in the Everglades development of Long Island. Jim and Mary are no sooner settled in their new home than a stranger visits them and offers to trace Jim's ancestry. The couple learn that Jim comes of a famous and notable lineage and is related to a Spanish prince. Mary is delighted because she feels the prince and her husband's distinguished forebears will aid her to break into society.

CHAPTER XXVII

"Jim, your cousin is arriving this afternoon, and I've asked a few dinner guests here to meet him."

"Why—what cousin is that, Mary?"

"Oh, Jim, don't be such a boob! I'm referring of course to the Prince Estibetan."

"Oh—of course! Of course, Mary!" Jim puffed at his pipe and tried to pretend he was not amused.

"And Jim, I've hired a butler and maid. We must have them, if we're to live as we should now that we are rich."

"Certainly, Mary. I don't see how we could live without them. I've been feeling the need of someone to butle for me ever since I turned Spanish!"

"You old meanie! Mary pulled his hair, just as the doorbell rang. It was the servants, a colored pair."

"Jim, this is Ebenezer and Miranda."

"Afternoon, boss!"

"Good afternoon, Ebenezer. I hope you're going to like the work."

"De work, boss?" Ebenezer chuckled. "Oh, yassuh—yassuh! Miranda's gonna like de work jes' fine!"

"How about yourself? Don't you expect to work a little?"

"Oh, yassuh, soon's Ah gets mah hand in, sho' nuff. Ben so long since Ah done had a job, boss. Ah's all out o' trainin'!"

"Well, you'd better get your hand in prett, quickly, Ebenezer," Mary said crossly. "We're having a dinner party tonight and I'm expecting you to wait on the table."

"Yess'm. Ah done wait on table a-plenty when Ah had de job on de railroad, ma'am. Ah done wait on plenty o' swells in de dinin' car, ma'am!"

Mary went off with them to the kitchen. She returned a little later, smiling.

"They're going to do very nicely, Jim!"

"Sure! And it'll be like traveling. Mary, to have a dining-car waiter with us all the time!"

NONE too soon had Mary prepared for the reception of the Prince. He and the crustomologist arrived a half hour later, and were shown into the parlor. Tall, with sleek black hair and dark, friendly eyes, elegant of mien and faultless of attire, the Prince Estibetan was the sort who might be depended upon in any social gathering to go over big with the feminine element.

The crustomologist made a bow.

"Mr. Tibbett, Mrs. Tibbett, I have the honor to present your Spanish relative Prince Ignacio Florencio Octavio Leopoldo Pedro Lorenzo Modesto Estibetan."

Jim said, "Hello, Cousin Ignatz. Gosh, old chap, to think I haven't seen you for twelve generations! How's every little thing with you?"

"Jim!" Mary remonstrated, as

W. C. T. U. NOTES

By MRS. CARL W. LONGACRE FRIEDOM OR SLAVERY, WHICH SHALL IT BE?

The fight against the liquor evil, like the struggle against human slavery, is fundamentally an effort to establish a HIGHER level of civilization. The struggle to maintain the liquor traffic is an effort to establish a LOWER level of civilization.

Just as the Nineteenth Century saw the complete outlawry of Negro slavery, the Twentieth Century will eventually see the complete outlawry of liquor slavery. We may as well realize that with liquor slavery, as with Negro slavery, the nation cannot go half slave and half free. It will become all one or all the other.

For untold centuries the men and women who wished to abstain from liquor have had their rights interfered with by the men and women who wish to indulge in drinking. The homes, the communities, and the states that wish to be free from the liquor curse have had their rights interfered with by the homes and the states that are dominated by the liquor traffic.

CAN WE PROTECT DRY STATES.

Those who wish to repeal the eighteenth amendment are arguing that the Federal Government can protect the states which wish to remain dry. By what line of reasoning are they able to argue that if the Federal Government cannot enforce the present laws, it would find it easier to enforce laws with wet spots scattered throughout the nation? If it is now impossible to protect the national borders, how much more impossible would it be to protect the borders of states and cities? In an age of automobiles and airplanes, there is no middle ground. The nation will be all dry or all wet. We may as well realize that there is no simple solution to this problem.

No people ever rose to greatness on a platform of self-indulgence. The path of progress is paved with sacrifice on behalf of great ideals. Shall their ideals be lowered by self-indulgence?

America is what she is because citizens have been willing to sacrifice to look ahead, to think of the other, and to work for the common good.

Shall America lower her standards for revenue and greed? Shall America lower her ideals, the ideals handed down to us by the willing self sacrifice of our forefathers?

Shall America, "the home of the free and brave" to satisfy appetites and self-indulgence turn loose on her people an untamed beast that will devour and destroy thousands of her people? Many of the victims will be helpless women and innocent children. The mark of the liquor beast can already be seen in our own little city of Richmond—homes are being wrecked, and hearts are saddened today by drinking fathers—drunkenness is steadily increasing; accidents on the highways are increasing.

If these conditions exist now under the best regime what may we expect when the Eighteenth Amendment is set aside and liquor rooms at will? We may as well face the fact—"Repeal of Prohibition will not repeal the crime and unhappiness and ruined lives that will be caused by liquors return."

DON'T TAKE PILLS FOR CONSTIPATION

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels. They do not remove the cause of the trouble. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

What every constipated person needs is a good liver. Some like Plantain to cleanse the digestive system of all foul secretions and to stimulate the liver. Others like laxative pills to produce a "quick" result. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, constipated bowels, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, indigestion, nervousness, other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantain is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants. Nature's own remedy—that acts in a mild, easy way without "weakening" or "irritating" the bowels. It's the only safe, reliable, gentle laxative that will keep your bowels moving.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels. They do not remove the cause of the trouble. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

What every constipated person needs is a good liver. Some like Plantain to cleanse the digestive system of all foul secretions and to stimulate the liver. Others like laxative pills to produce a "quick" result. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, constipated bowels, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, indigestion, nervousness, other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Rolph Praises Plan to Probe Project Fight

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—UP—Governor Rolph today praised senatorial investigation of reported power company activity in the Central Valley water project, giving enthusiastic endorsement of the plan of seven senators to investigate alleged power company expenditures in the campaign against the project.

"Are the people of the state going to permit private interests to dictate to public officials, or will the people stand behind the officials as they should?" Rolph asked. "Are the people willing to be bossed by private interests?"

A statement from the Senate bloc said in part:

"There is every reason to believe that the great power companies of California are preparing to spend $500,000 in a desperate attempt to defeat the central valley water project—the time is at hand to expose methods of privately owned utilities in California in influencing elections."

RICHMOND MEN TO BE GIVEN JOBS ON ROAD

All is in readiness to put 955 men to work in Contra Costa county tomorrow under the federal civil works highway program.

In Richmond more than 450 men will report at the offices of City Engineer Ed Hoffman tomorrow morning and will be handed their work assignments.

Only men whose names are on the county relief rolls will be given work at this time. Later the men who registered at the national re-employment offices will be given jobs.

Three projects will be taken care of by the workers in Richmond. Ditches will be widened and dug for draining swamp lands, storm water drainage ditches will be cleaned and flushed; roadways and gutters will be cleaned; rip rap on streets will be placed; tree surgery, trimming trees, cultivating and planting trees and shrubs, cleaning creek, constructing paths and roads, and building retaining walls in parks, will all be taken care of.

A sum of $83,316.60 has been allotted and 452 men will be employed.

In El Cerrito the projects will include street cleaning, street grading, ditching, cleaning ditches and gutters, cutting brush and extending sewers. Work will cost $24,816 for labor and $1,091 for material. El Cerrito will employ 130 men on these jobs.

In the county, generally, 500 miles of county roads will be taken care of; shoulders will be widened; brush cut; rights of ways will be cleared; ditches will be cleaned. The work will cost $151,180.20 for labor and $544 for material. A total of 830 men will be employed.

County Surveyor R. R. Arnold is in charge of the work while John Elmquist will act as assistant disbursing officer.

County supervisors have warned those who refuse to take jobs under the project will be cut off the county relief rolls entirely.

Watershed Aflame

A 4000-ACRE watershed, valued at more than $4,000,000 to conserve southern California's meager rainfall, was in flames this week when a fierce forest fire swept the La Cresenta hills. Above photo, shot from a plane piloted by Paul Mantaz, shows the devastated area, in which a score of fine homes and mountain cabins were leveled by the blaze.

element into the case. It traces the road over the Dumbarton bridge, instead of that over the San Mateo bridge where Thurmond and Holmes said they hurled Hart's body.

New Grilling

Sheriff Emig prepared a new and intensive grilling of the two prisoners in an attempt to discover whether they followed the route of the map, or whether they did as they have insisted they did. Their confession has been supported by the finding of concrete blocks and wire which they said they fastened to Hart's body. There is a remote possibility, however, that the blocks could have been thrown from the San Mateo bridge as a hoax. It was felt.

The map was found by Mrs. James Turner near the Los Gatos creek, which runs beside the Shelley road in the rear of her home, which is near Campbell. Thurmond and Holmes have admitted they parked on the Shelley road on the Monday after the kidnaping and sat in an automobile preparing ransom notes.

IRAQ

THE ARABS WHO INVADED MESOPOTAMIA ABOUT 700 A.D. CALLED IT "IRAK" (OR "IRAQ"), AN ARABIC WORD MEANING "LEVEL LAND BESIDE A GREAT RIVER." BECAUSE IT IS THE FLAT VALLEY BETWEEN THE TIGRIS AND EUPHRATES RIVERS. THE NAME WAS MADE THE OFFICIAL ONE WHEN THE ARAB INHABITANTS WERE FREED FROM TURKEY IN 1920.

WHAT are the PURCHASING AGENTS DOING?

EVERY big company has one or more men whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices . . . materials . . . sources of supply . . . present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But ALL of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We HAVE to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy.

And they are buying because THEY KNOW THAT PRICES ARE GOING UP.

"Pig iron has advanced 13 percent," the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42½ percent. I am paying 41 percent more for lumber than I did in March, and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe . . . that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way the professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they KNOW. They have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

PRICES ARE GOING UP. And it's a good thing for everyone. For things had come to the point where NOTHING had any true value. A man's time . . . his product . . .

his property . . . all had sunk so low in value that he couldn't even get a decent living.

That couldn't go on. So the Government set up the machinery of the NRA codes in order to MAKE EVERYTHING WORTH SOMETHING AGAIN.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values . . . living values . . . can be reached, prices will have to go higher than they are now.

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay in a supply of the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. But these stocks are strictly limited. NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.
